

11/07/2022 to 16/07/2022

Wall of Fame

MISS GOWER NOV 07, 2017 03:33PM

Arran enjoyed ferrying across the Mersey yesterday.

Jake enjoying watching the Liver Birds from the ferry yesterday.

Max's behaviour on Castner school trip yesterday did the school proud - well done Max!

Well done to Shaye, Aiyana and Alex for retaking their accelerated reader tests. All of their scores have gone up since their last test, hard work pays off!

Aiyana has made a great start to her artist research page, and is now getting ready to add her own drawings.

Jonpaul made some great notes in his PSHE book about risky online behaviour and reputations.

Great effort from Shaye and Libby in their Geography and History assessments! Proof of how hard you have worked this term, well done!

Yet more super Maths work from Drew and Shayne!

Libby has been finding ways to make Maths more interesting for her - using Art!

Woodman diary entries

David and Jayden produced fantastic diary entries in History this week. They were from the point of view of Victorian prisoners who were stuck in the first ever prisons. Great work boys

Daley - star art

Freddy, Josh, Kieran, LJ, Ethan and Abby created beautiful art based on the recent pictures of deep space. They worked with oil pastel to blend colours beautifully.

Daley - Rice Krispie cakes

Alissa, Abby, Josh, Kieran, Freddy and Ethan M made delicious Rice Krispie cakes this week!

More musicians in Turing

Callum has been learning to play the guitar. He was very pleased that Mr Meenan let him borrow the electric guitar!

trim.F4130959-8B26-4BBA-8EAA-76FB554FCD59.MOV

0:11 video

PADLET DRIVE

Curie - Budding Geologists

This week Curie combined a healthy walk up Bidston Hill with a search for different types of rock. We discovered examples of igneous, sedimentary and metamorphic rocks.

Curie - PHSE

Great work from Will and Jess who used the pyramid of priorities when deciding what was most important to them in life.

Turing's ASDAN success

Well done to Turing for completing their English, PSHE, science and Personal Development ASDANs. An amazing achievement. Jack, Callum and Nathan even got extra credits in history also.

Surprise ending to the most exciting competition of the year.

In a dramatic twist, in the last week of the competition, Ellie has just beaten Shaye to the top of the word reading table. Well done Ellie for your surprising end sprint to the finish line!

A huge congratulations to both of our word millionaires!

Woodman science

Turing Heart dissection

Huge congratulations to year 9 pupils for completing their science asdan award

Curie - Geologists

Students from Newton had a fantastic trip to Chester Zoo this week.

Great work Jayden

A fantastic piece of writing from Jayden.F explaining Karma and why people believe in it. Well done!

Louis has learned some new songs on the piano.

Louis has learned the Peaky Blinders theme tune this week. Ms Q is very happy as this is one of her favourite songs.

Turing have been completing lots of paperwork!

Well done to Turing for getting so much ASDAN work done over the last few weeks. They have all been working really hard and remained focused, even when Ms Q has been a bit of a dragon!

Dylan's Delicious Stroganoff

Amazing effort Olly!

We are very impressed with the effort Olly is putting in recently, not just with his handwriting but also working independently. Well done Olly!

Leon's Turkey, Mushroom and Courgette stroganoff 😊

Well done Daniel

Well done Leo

Well done to Kieran and Josh for their independent Maths work this week!

Jack has been enjoying using his new charcoal pencils.

Ellie has been playing with silhouettes in art.

Paige is fantastic at art!

We have been very impressed with Paige's art work. She is incredibly talented. This is her gothic, Tim Burton, collection.

Well done to Kaden and Ethan today for their delectable French Toast aka 'Eggy Bread' as I know it!

Well done to Jacob and Ethan from Banksy for their 'upcycled old books' Rainforest Art! Fantastic efforts boys! 🌴

PIC•COLLAGE

Turing's fakeaways

Callum, Louis and Jack made chicken tikka masala. It smelled delicious.

Attendance Reflection Time

Have you had good attendance this year?

Could you be in more?

What are the benefits of good attendance?

Daley had a great time at the zoo this week!
