LO to use adverbs correctly

The lions and girl be sprang his sister by secretly and while boasting the pair together. The boy's sister ran like a cheetah to him just to get caught in her worried face for him.

The new children all stood up cheerfully. In fact you could even mistake it for a case!

There was recently a Serbian boy in the shop comparing under about a dress some employees were. 15 minutes later he was picked out with no words and he walked away graciously.

✓ Well done, you identified different adverbs and highlighted them.
 ✓ You created some wonderful sentences 😊
 T: Remember to include your capital letters.

Jack and Libby looked at what factors may influence tourism this week. Both had some great ideas!

Thank you Mr Chiswell for popping into Turing's science lesson and offering a fingerprint. Sublime teaching!

Wednesday 7th September 2022
 LO: I can identify factors that influence tourism.

Many things can influence tourism. One of the factors can be poor media representation. The reason for this is that people can be deterred by things such as the news showing dangerous scenarios. Another factor is epidemics. Epidemics pose a health risk and going to places with epidemics can spread virus or disease to other places. Finally, visa or entry requirements. Some countries require visa or related requirements to enter.

Castner started their travel and tourism topic this week. Great work from Max looking at reasons why people may travel.

Thursday 8th September 2022
 LO: I can define travel and tourism

Tourism is where you travel to different places also for example, going to football matches, going on holiday. Travelling is where you go to other places for example, school, work, home on holiday, break and etc.

Amazing work in Anderson learning the tricky topic of Atomic Structure

Never trust atoms

they make up everything.

Praise Postcards

Praise postcards will be landing in your mail if you have gone 'above and beyond' in Science

Amazing start to the year from Tommy. Well done
